

Wind of Change and Winds of the Spirit: Church and Missionary Responses to The Year of Africa.

Terry A. Barringer¹

¹The Round Table, Cambridge, U.K.

tabarringe@aol.com

This paper looks at church and missionary responses to the 'Year of Africa', 1960 – the move of colonies to independence, Harold Macmillan's 'Wind of Change' speech and Sharpeville. It considers the influence of the Christian press on public opinion in Britain and specifically Christian thinking around the emergence of the modern Commonwealth.